this church) laid flat on the ground because most of the stones were falling over.

On that map are listed "John Gillespie" and "Jane McMichael Gillespie."

DWP and SRP were not able to locate the stones in question either because the stones in question are deeply buried beneath thick sod at the present time or because the map in question is highly inaccurate (which seems to be the case) as far as the exact positions of the stones in this church yard are concerned.